DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The corrected or substitute drawings were received on 13 November 2002.

These drawings are accepted by Examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 2882

1. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brown (U.S. Patent No. 6,317,549) in view of Imoto (U.S. Patent No. 5,742,722) and Hodges et al. (U.S. Patent No. 4,838,643, from hereinafter "Hodges").

Brown discloses an optical fiber used in optical transmission systems with an optical amplifier with a doped fiber core and cladding area surrounding the core (abstract). The amplifier has an input (fig. 7, ref. 30-1) and output (fig. 7, ref. 30-2), a mode field diameter of $8.4\text{ }\mu\text{m}$ (col. 5, lines 60-66), and a cut-off wavelength at which the fiber becomes single mode (col. 3, lines 60-64) at a value less than 1450nm (col. 5, lines 60-66). However, Brown fails to specifically disclose the gain fibers. Also, the reference fails to specifically teach a mode field diameter that is greater than $10\text{ }\mu\text{m}$.

Imoto discloses the use of a gain fiber with a mode field diameter of $8.8\text{ }\mu\text{m}$ at a wavelength of 1550 nm (col. 7, lines 54-64).

Hodges discloses a mode field diameter that is greater than $10\text{ }\mu\text{m}$ and less than $14\text{ }\mu\text{m}$ (col. 1, lines 34-36).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have considered the fiber of Brown to be a gain fiber since gain fibers, according to Applicant, conventionally refer to a design of the fiber. And being that the fiber is designed to meet the limitations of claims subject matter, it can be fully recognized as a gain fiber. Furthermore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have a mode field diameter that is greater than $10\text{ }\mu\text{m}$ and less than $14\text{ }\mu\text{m}$ since such a limitation is well known in the art and widely used for single mode optical fibers in telecommunications (Hodges, col. 1, lines 34-36).

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 4, and 7-9 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
